

Getting started with your enduring powers of attorney

This guide covers some of the main decisions you may need to make when setting up your enduring powers of attorney. You don't have to decide everything now – but this is a good starting point. Once you've thought it over, call us to arrange a meeting. We'll discuss things with you and help you make any decisions.

Special Conditions – optional

In your enduring power of attorney you are able to state certain terms and conditions. Your adviser will discuss these with you when you meet. Before then you might like to think about the following...

I wish my property attorney to regularly consult with the following person(s) (if I cannot be consulted).

Only one name is needed but you may wish to have more.

You may also wish to consider whether...

- your attorney is able to benefit themselves or others
- you have any specific responsibilities for your attorney (e.g. birthday and Christmas gifts, donations to particular charities)
- you want to specify the health practitioner to assess your mental capacity (if need arises)
- your attorney can write a Will for you (with the Family Court's approval).
